LABEL ELITE

Do you sell food items at your retail outlets and want an easy, effective way to create nutrition labels outlining their nutrient content? Now you can – with Computrition's Label Elite add-on module!

In conjunction with Foodservice Operations Management (FOM) and Nutrition Care Management (NCM), this solution can be used by any operation that either sells pre-packaged foods or serves menu items in cafés, dining halls, or retail outlets. Instantaneously generate labels that you can attach to products or print easily legible placards to place throughout your servery.

With this module, not only will you be able to show your items' nutritional information, but you can also list their ingredients and associated allergens. Best of all, the labeling features meet the FDA's Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).

Label Elite includes our Video XChange Gateway, allowing further integration with third-party labeling systems for customized packaged food labels, taking the retailer's branding to the next level! As a bonus, Label Elite also integrates with third-party digital menu board systems, enhancing the overall dining experience.

> For starters, not only do the results look professional, clear and easy to understand, they look very much as hoped from our communications early in the development phase... Appreciate that the allergens and sub-ingredients are added at the item level, once and done. This was something we had to repeatedly do at the recipe level (allergens at least) with our old software.
